

Message from Editorial Desk

25th March 2025

Dear Readers, Researchers, and Contributors,

It is with immense pride that we present the latest edition of the International Journal of Engineering Research and Sustainable Technologies (IJERST). This issue marks a significant milestone in our journey, as IJERST has officially received DOI approval from CrossRef and has become a registered member of this esteemed organization. This achievement will greatly enhance the indexing, visibility, and accessibility of our published research, ensuring that scholarly contributions reach a broader global audience.

Additionally, we are pleased to announce that IJERST has been assigned an Archival Resource Key (NAAN), further solidifying our commitment to long-term digital preservation and accessibility. This development will facilitate seamless citation, retrieval, and archival of our articles, reinforcing the credibility and impact of the research we publish.

In this edition, we continue to uphold our mission of promoting pioneering research and technological advancements in engineering and science. The featured articles showcase innovative approaches, sustainable solutions, and groundbreaking methodologies that address contemporary challenges in various engineering disciplines.

Our dedication to academic excellence and research integrity remains unwavering. As we move forward, IJERST will persist in expanding its reach by forging strategic partnerships with academic databases, research institutions, and indexing platforms. These efforts aim to further elevate the journal's influence and ensure that our authors' contributions gain the recognition they deserve.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our esteemed authors, diligent reviewers, and dedicated editorial board members. Your support and contributions have been instrumental in making IJERST a trusted platform for high-quality research dissemination.

We encourage scholars and researchers to submit their innovative work to IJERST and become part of our growing academic community. With the advancements in indexing and digital archiving, we are committed to providing a robust platform for knowledge exchange and impactful research.

Warm regards,

On behalf of Editorial Team
